Doctorate in Philosophy (PhD)
Human Kinetics

Emphasis on Psychology & Pedagogy

Become an Expert in Psychology & Pedagogy of Physical Activity and Sport Through Your Research

The Professors: Your Dedicated Experts

- Jennifer Brunet, Ph.D.: Psychosocial aspects of physical activity behaviour
- Diane Culver, Ph.D.: Coach development, social learning
- Michelle Fortier, Ph.D.: Physical activity motivation, mental health/well-being
- Martin Camiré, Ph.D.: Life skills, positive youth development, school sport
- Natalie Durand-Bush, Ph.D.: Self-regulated/technical skills training, well-being, coaching
- Bradley Young, Ph.D.: Self-regulation of practice, talent development

Why choose uOttawa to study psychology & pedagogy of physical activity and sport?

- Expertise: Choose from professors with a wide-range of expertise in research and practice
- Location: Study in a research-intensive, bilingual environment and access a variety of organizations (e.g., hospitals, fitness centres, and sport clubs)
- Opportunities: Sharpen your skills in the world-renowned intervention & consultation laboratory or do an international exchange

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

- Pursue an academic career in a college or university
- Work as a research coordinator or assistant for health or government agencies/institutions
- Work as a knowledge translation officer and research analyst for non-profit organizations or research and strategy organizations
- Work in policy planning and strategy for local, provincial/territorial and national sport organizations or federal departments/agencies
- Work for community organizations to develop & implement sport and physical activity programs across an individual’s lifespan

Psychology & Pedagogy Students in Action

Students and their supervisor attending a conference

School of Human Kinetics
Montpetit Hall room 240
125 University Private
Ottawa, ON, Canada K1N 6N5
Phone: 613-562-5800 ext. 4225
Email: hkesap@uottawa.ca