GRANT WRITING RESOURCES

Knowledge Translation, Knowledge Transfer, Knowledge Mobilization, Knowledge Exchange are all terms used to describe activities that promote dissemination and uptake of research results. These activities go beyond traditional peer-reviewed publications, and are meant to target potential users. Most granting agencies now require researchers to include research dissemination strategies in their proposals. To assist you with this task, the following links can be consulted for further information and guidelines:

As always, do not hesitate to contact the Research Office (fssrecherche@uottawa.ca) for assistance on this and other grant-related topics. We are here to help!
